Our Missions Opportunity

There's nothing more fundamental than water. And there's nothing more important. It's 70% of the planet, after all.

Simply put, water is life. Without it, we can't survive. But even as you read this, there's a serious water crisis around the world. The United Nations has recognized access to clean water as a human right, but more than 1 billion people can't get the water they need. That's one in six of us. The facts tell the story: more than 5000 children die from contaminated water every day.
